Term 5: All Aboard!

Understanding the world

This half term we will be continuing to build routines and developing positive relationships with others.

We will be thinking about where we live and what it means to live somewhere. We will explore how we get to different places and what the best type of transport would be for getting to different places.

As scientists we will be exploring changes over time thinking. We will be making predictions of what we think might happen and then evaluating what happened to see if our predictions were right.

Personal, social, and emotional development

As a prime area of the children's learning, the children will continue to engage in weekly PSHE sessions.

The sessions are designed to support children to see themselves as valued individuals; to express their emotions; think about the perspective of others; develop resilience and perseverance; and to manage their own needs.

The children will be supported in this area by the adults in class and our classroom topics have a strong PSHE theme running through them for this half term.
